Research Group Says

LET LARGE TOWNS HAVE HIGH SCHOOLS

VALDUE — Proposed changes in the Minimum Foundation (Gillmer-Aikin) school program under which Texas public education is financed were discussed by members of the Southwest Texas School Men's Association here Tuesday evening, April 19.

The changes in the program are suggested in seven recommendations to the State Board of Education by the Texas Research League, a citizen-sponsored governmental research organization. The State Board requested the League to make an evaluation of workings of the Foundation Program since its adoption in 1949.

Glen H. Ivy a research analyst of the League staff met with the school men.

Strengthening of local school district structure by reorganization of inadequate districts is the first of the recommendations.

The survey report states that some of the essential characteristics of effective school district structure are:

1. A full twelve grade program of education in each district.

2. Elementary school or schools large enough to use effectively at least one teacher for each grade and a high school with an average of at least 75 pupils in each age group with a faculty of at least 12 teachers.

3. Not over 45 minutes of travel one way between home and school for elementary pupils and not over one hour for high school students.

4. A school in every active community. Elementary schools should serve small communities and neighborhoods, and high schools should serve larger communities.

The research report declares that inadequate school district organization causes lower attendance because of drop outs by high school age youth, restricted offerings of courses and related services, waste of teaching manpower and unduly high costs per pupil.

Another recommendation is that the support level of the Foundation Program in each district be keyed to the number of children in attendance currently rather than the number in school during the preceding year. The present formula, based on the preceding year's attendance, penalizes rapidly growing districts and subsidizes districts with declining population, it is contend.

The survey suggests that one method of preventing further injustice would be to give districts the option of either using the present formula or electing to compute foundation support levels at a flat amount per child in attendance based on the current level.

A major recommendation of the report is that the State Board of Education undertake construction of a new index of property values to serve as the measure of the capacity of each school district to support its Foundations Program from local tax sources. The suggested index would replace the present Economic Index which the League study found defective in many respects.

The proposed new index would not, however, mean state interference with local assessors, since it would be only a statistical operation comparable to the calculation of the present Economic Index, the League's report declares.

Other recommendations presented to the State Board by the Research League are: (1) that the per capita apportionment of the Available School Fund be distributed on the basis of average daily attendance rather than on number of children counted in the scholastic census; (2) that the $100 credit per person on the school faculty and staff, granted local districts by the 1954 called session of the Legislature, be made a part of the cost of the Foundation Program, or be dropped from the law; (3) that the reduction of the local share of the Foundation Program cost now given districts containing state and federal tax-exempt land be repealed, but not until the proposed index of property values has been substituted for the Economic Index; and (4) that the scholastic census be taken every two years, rather than every year, and that results be reported to the Texas Education Agency by number of children rather than by individual names.

Adjudant Lovelace said the plane blew up when it hit the ground.

Cadet Moose was on a "round robin" flight and had reported while over Brady six minutes before the crash that he was proceeding without trouble. It was a clear night. Adjudant Lovelace said Cadet Moose was scheduled to report by radio when he came to Brady and Austin before returning to his home base.

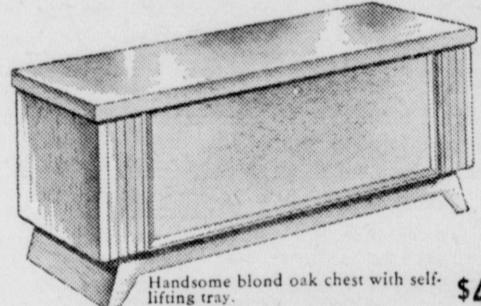

Cadet Moose was proceeding toward Austin in a southeasterly direction when his plane plummeted toward earth in a near vertical dive. There was no evidence of malfunction, on the part of the plane, Lt. Col. Earl V. Riley, post commandant, said.

A man heard the motor minutes before Moose crashed and said the engine sounded smooth, the adjudant said. Moose was flying low at the time. Then the same man heard the crash seconds later.

The fatal cross country flight is the first student fatality since April 8, 1953, when A/C Elliott R. Tabor of Sacramento, Calif. was killed in a plane crash. Later, on Oct. 20, 1953, a student instructor, L. D. Carlson, was killed on a flight.

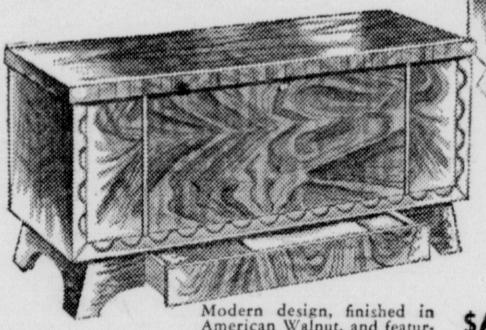

Mr. Lovelace, the warrant officer adjudant, said he estimated there had been about 260,000 flying hours of safe flying in between the fatal accidents since April 8. Because air base planes fly at an average speed of 150 m. p. h. the multiplication of the two figures arrives at 39 million air miles traveled without accident. It is believed to be a record among the nine contract schools, Mr. Lovelace said.

Got an itch to switch the pitch?

Here's the New Hit in Hardtops
— the 4-Door Riviera

Want to do what a pilot does when he clears for take-off? Want to feel the pulse-quicken thrill that comes of giving the gun to a high-powered automobile with the world's first airplane-inspired transmission?

Want to try Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow* — the spectacular new wonder drive that's the talk of car makers and car buyers alike — and the drive that's sending Buick sales soaring to new record-breaking highs?

Well, sir — be our test-pilot guest at the wheel of a '55 Buick and let today's Dynaflow do the honors.

Instantly, you get full-power

When you press the pedal as you normally would, you move ahead in velvety smoothness, getting plenty of miles from each gallon of gas . . .

Because twenty propeller-like blades inside the Dynaflow unit, spinning in oil, have an angle of "pitch" for top economy — like the modern plane's propellers when cruising in the air.

But comes the need for emergency acceleration, and — like a pilot does for quick take-off and climb — you switch the pitch of those Dynaflow propellers for action, just by pressing the pedal all the way down.

Instantly, you get full-power response for split-second getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge to get out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's a response thrilling beyond all previous experience — because there's never been anything like it before in any car.

And we'd like you to try it — along with the walloping new V8 power, the cruiser-steady ride, the fine handling ease, and the true big-car roominess that are all part and parcel of every Buick.

Can you come in today — this week, for sure — and test pilot the hottest Buick yet built?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Why Not A Medal For Dickie Torres?

Not many times in the life of Hondo does one get the chance to save a life physically.

Richard Torres, a smart 13-year-old seventh grader, had this chance and made the most of it.

However, but for the vigor of Arthur's brother Henry, who wrote a letter to the Anvil Herald, most folks probably would not have learned of Richard's heroism.

It would seem only fair that the boy be rewarded for saving Arthur Dominguez. Arthur had slipped in a 15 foot hole of water while fishing. Richard had to dive in three times before he finally saved Arthur from drowning April 5.

The town should be proud enough of the boy to strike a medal for him. Or, a plaque with an inscription showing the town's gratefulness could be given the alert youngster. Now is the time for giving a resounding pat on the back.

There are two more salient facts to be gleaned from the incident:

First, all youngsters should learn to swim. The grownups, too. Many children don't know the art because they live on land where water is scarce. Also, the only swimming pool in town is at the air base, always needed, always crowded. Naturally, there aren't enough deep tanks to satisfy all those who want to swim.

Second, life-saving courses should be learned as the next step after swimming. It would do no good to be able to swim to the aid of a drowning man, woman or child unless one could cope with the desperate struggles of the helpless victim.

Summer is fast approaching. Does anyone care whether there are any Arthur Dominguezes who aren't lucky enough to have a lifesaver along?

INDULGES IN SOME REMINISCING ABOUT
"ONE WHOSE GOOD WORKS LIVE AFTER HIM"

Publication in this column last week of the "rather ancient" manuscript so generously furnished by Prof. W. N. Saathoff, being Sowell's sketch of his beloved father's life, has brought up such a flow of memories in the columnist's mind that he risks the relation of a few of them here in the hope that they may be of sufficient interest to "excuse" his use of his allotted space this week for such purpose — a bit personal though they may be.

FD

In the early autumn of 1896, a newcomer from the post-oak ridges of North Mississippi was trying out his skill for the first time at "teaching the young idea how to shoot" at a little rock schoolhouse on Francisco Creek, then known as Haass School but now long since abandoned.

That — embryonic, let us say — pedagogue was this columnist.

It was recess time; the pupils, some dozen or so of varying ages, were making merry on the playground, gleefully shouting to each other in their own familiar Alsatian dialect.

Teacher was a silent, solemn onlooker catching only now and then an English word or phrase inserted in the children's chatter.

And was he a some lonesome person despite his noisy environment and his deeply — felt responsibilities!

FD

Onto this scene, all unexpected, rode an elderly, benevolent-looking gentleman; dismounting and tying his horse, he introduced himself and explained his mission.

He was candidate for representative in the state legislature from this his district and wished to announce to the children that he would speak that night in their schoolhouse and to ask them to urge their parents and other elders to come out and hear his message.

A tap of the bell brought the children trooping in and in a few fatherly words, as was his wont, he spoke to them and took his departure, leaving a subdued and deeply impressed group to carry his message to their people.

That man was Memke Saathoff, then a venerated, highly respected citizen of Quihi.

FD

Came night and the turnout of citizens that overflowed the school building indicated that the children might have shouted his announcement from the house-top.

He introduced himself to a most respectful and attentive audience, and in his earnest and most sincere manner, asked them to send him to the forthcoming session of the legislature that he might serve their interest there where he felt they had been neglected.

Memory fails to recall even the gist of his speech, but memories of what the zigzagging of the G. H. & S. A. Ry. across Medina County in 1881 had done to Castroville, Quihi and D'Hanis still rankled, and we recall that he was roundly applauded when he closed his respects to the R. R. for the much harm it had done and the little help it had been in pioneering with the assertion that "no Injun ever saw an engine" — a literally true statement, for the hardships of the pioneers, as related in the Sowell story, had long passed before the railroads came in to profit from the fruits of those pioneers' labors.

FD

The election came on in due course.

Nationally, the country was in a turmoil, and for the first and, we think possibly, the only time in our country's history it saw the same man's name heading the tickets of two national parties for election as president.

The Republicans nominated McKinley as their candidate.

The Democrats headed their ticket with the name of that silvery-tongued advocate of Free Silver, William Jennings Bryan, whose matchless oratory had electrified the country as no other man's ever has.

Who his party running mate on that ticket was has faded from memory.

But, at any rate, he was unacceptable to the then young and virile Populist party, who nominated Bryan to head its ticket while it named Thomas E. Watson of Georgia as his running mate for second place.

Of course, your history has told you McKinley was elected, despite the double effort to land Mr. Bryan.

FD

The ballots of that day would be a curiosity to the present day voter.

They were not "official," and it was the custom of each local,

There's more than meets the eye...

There is a wealth of skills and know-how involved in providing you with dependable natural gas service. Behind the pipe lines and other facilities necessary to bring adequate supplies of natural gas to you are many dry holes that are drilled along with the producing wells.

Producers make large investments to explore for and find natural gas. They are entitled to a reasonable return on these investments... if we expect them to continue taking the financial risks involved in the drilling necessary to produce more and more natural gas, for...

Seco Philosopher Sez

Farm Prosperity Not Based On Food

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses the future of agriculture this week, a subject he knows as much about as he does anything else.

Dear editor:
I was out here the other day reviewing my assets, going over in my mind what the agricultural situation is and trying to figure out if I was about as well off as the amount of work I'm willing to put out would entitle me to be, and on the whole, despite the fact things could be a lot better, I guess you could say I'm still getting along and after all when you can say that, things are in normal shape.

I was figuring up my assets on the margin of a newspaper and after I got through calculating I looked the paper over and ran into an article that set me to woryin'.

In this article, the Secretary of Agriculture was trying to prove that farmers are in fine shape and things ought to continue that way.

Now I'll tell you, when the experts start trying to prove to me my future is secure, my first reaction is to begin wondering if something's wrong, and one of the arguments advanced by Sec. Benson didn't help a bit.

According to him, one of the reasons times are good and are gonna get better for the farmers is that he sees "a continuation of high domestic demand for food."

As I understand this, he believes farming is secure because people are gonna keep on eating food, and in one sense he's right. That is, I believe it's a fairly safe prediction that there will never come a time when people will lose interest in something to eat, but on the other hand I doubt if there ever was a time in the past when they lost interest in that either, and everybody knows there have been times in the past when farmers were busted.

I tell you, basing farming prosperity on the proposition that there's gonna be a steady demand for food is hunting pretty hard for something to be optimistic about, I believe farming is gonna continue to be a good enterprise, but I ain't basing it on the idea it has to be because people have to eat. You might as well argue banking is gonna stay good every month out of the year forever because people like money.

I'd appreciate it if the experts would stop telling me when I'm well off. The minute I ain't, I'll know it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

J. Thompson Gets Advance Auto Training

John A. Thompson has attended the General Motors Training Center at Houston to learn advanced automotive service techniques which he will use in his work with the Hondo Motor Sales Pontiac dealers in Hondo.

Thompson, 908 Ave. M, spent three days at the Houston school, one of a nationwide network of training centers being set up by General Motors to keep employees of its car and truck dealerships abreast of new mechanical developments and service techniques.

A service manager with Hondo Motor Sales, recently employed, Thompson selected the new model course, taking advanced study in the changes in the 1955 Pontiac.

According to him, one of the reasons times are good and are gonna get better for the farmers is that he sees "a continuation of high domestic demand for food."

March Slow On Growth

Evidently, March is not the month for students to grow. From Class 7-A graphs kept by Mrs. Ethel Burch's students, Charlene Fields was the only one of the group to grow a full inch. The measurements were taken April 1.

Also, none of the students had grown as much as three-fourths of an inch.

However, three 7-A pupils did grow a half inch — Kenneth Heyen, Nancy Burch and Clark Wurzbach. Ten sprouted a quarter of an inch growth. They were Cascille Joiner, Janice Muennink, Judy Leinweber, Margaret Garza, Betty Parsons, Elizabeth Balsi, Larry Schweers, Thomas Santos, Joe Robert Torres and Ramiro Ybarra.

The greatest number — 13 — remained status quo. In this group of non-growers are Tommy Carter, Pedro Garza, Joe Benites, Kathryn Vincent, Gennetta Saathoff, Charles Hitzfelder, Marianne Muennink, Clayton Saathoff, Francis Cuellar, Steven Bernal, Sidney Mercer, Olga Rueda and Mary Rose Quintanilla.

NATALIA — John W. Ward, Jr., has been reelected president of the Natalia Independent School Board.

Charles W. Thatcher has been selected vice-president. John Pritchard has taken the oath of office as the newly-elected trustee, and G. M. Harrison is retained as board secretary.

POEMS

Editor's Note: Poetry, the language of the rich and the poor, is hard to write for most of us. But Class 8-A students have turned in some pieces that would do credit to their elders. The Anvil Herald will continue to print some of these poems as time and space permit.

MY GAL

My gal is very pretty to me — Her skin is like the bark of a tree.

And, boy, has my gal got a figger!

Two more legs and she'd look like Trigger.

Oh! Oh! My oh me! There is no one as pretty as she. Her hair is just like new-mowed hay,

'Cause they just mowed it yesterday.

Ah yes, she's a beautiful girl. Even though her ears do curl. She has a very wonderful diet, But unless you like mud, don't try it!

I guess I'll never marry her, Even though she sets my heart astir.

JACK MATHIS,
Back From Warm Springs

Jack Mathis
Returns From Warm Springs

GONZALES — Five year old JACK Mathis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mathis of Castrovile has returned home after being a patient at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for a period of time.

JACK was referred to this Tex. as specialty hospital of physical medicine and rehabilitation following a siege of polio suffered in 1952. Since that time JACK has returned at intervals for treatment to overcome handicaps wrought by polio. A program of home treatment has been set up for JACK.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

By Jerry June Berger

A small structure, that had almost come to be a Hondo landmark, was moved over the weekend. We refer to the child's playhouse, which for a couple of decades, has held an honored position on the east lawn at the home of MRS. E. R. LEIN-WEBER.

It holds a fascination for all children who have seen it or who have been privileged to play inside, but also has an interesting history.

Back when Medina County was running an annual county fair, a local lumber company built the miniature house to be raffled and the late Garland Martin, who was manager of a different lumber company at the time, jokingly bought a chance for a quarter and wrote the name of his little three year old daughter, FRANCES MARTIN, on the ticket that turned out to be the winner.

MRS. ERNA MARTIN furnished the house, curtained the windows, and several times over the years sat inside and painted the interior.

For about the last four years, KAREN GOODING, niece of MRS. MARTIN, has been the chief occupant, but now that she is almost seven years old and a big school girl, her interest has waned.

So now the house has a new home and a new tenant, LINDA BADER, who is nearly three years of age and the curly-haired daughter of the house's original user, has the tiny building in her own yard, that of the FRED BADER'S on 22nd Street.

The original furniture is still in and in need of a few re-

Snowflake To Cannonball

Quilts Pastime For Mary Boehrle

By Babs Batof

Snowflake, Dutch windmill, wasp's nest, cannonball.

To most people these objects represent an odd assortment of descriptive words. To Mrs. Mary Boehrle of Hondo they afford a kaleidoscope of pleasure.

The words are names of patchwork quilt designs.

Mrs. Boehrle, who has been piecing quilt tops since she married in 1924, acquired the pastime because she thought the quilts fascinating. No one taught her the "how to."

In her parent's home quilts never were pieced.

"We never had time; there was always so much work to do."

The energetic lady with the salt and pepper hair figured she had pieced and quilted four bed covers, quilted 10 more and fashioned a comfort the past year.

All this she did in her spare time. For her daily bread she packs eggs at a local hatchery. She also does housework and sewing.

"I make all my clothes and those of my daughter Frances," she announced majestically, "even our petticoats."

One of the most popular designs is the double wedding ring. This pattern Mrs. Boehrle can make in three sizes. It measures 28½ inches in diameter. It's about the size of a barrel top, and requires 16 circles to complete.

The middle-sized pattern takes 30 circles 19 inches in diameter, each about the size of a dishpan. The smallest pattern, using 72 circles in a top, measures 14½ inches in diameter and resembles a nail keg in size.

Mrs. Boehrle's pet is 'Round the World,' a simple design of many squares sewn into a striking box pattern. She pieced a top of this type for Frances, a high school senior, and liked it so well she made one for herself.

Cutting and sewing the scraps for the top took three weeks.

"That cuttin' takes so long; there's so many pieces," the quilter sighed.

Other peculiar quilt names include Dresden plate, pie bow tie, nine patch, snowball, fan, bone, spool, friendship and "lots more," Mrs. Boehrle said. The ingenious lady originated two names.

Intent on sewing a quality quilt, Mrs. Boehrle used No. 40 thread to piece the tops. "... so it's good and strong," she advised.

The tops are pieced on the machine. Mrs. Boehrle explodes the belief that pieces won't match if sewn by machine. Hers match, with every corner cheek to cheek.

"You have to watch, like everything else. It takes time, but they hold better and are stronger."

A special thread, stiff and polished, is used for quilting. The cost is by the spool for quilting, but piecing expense goes according to pattern.

Quilting time means moving all the furniture from the Boehrle bedroom to set up the quilt frame. The rectangular structure is 8x9 feet, and is fashioned of 1x2 boards.

Mrs. Boehrle estimates it takes her a half day to set up the frame, place the quilt upon the frame and spread cotton between the layers.

Two pounds of cotton batting are generally needed to stuff a quilt. Some women prefer three pounds, but Mrs. Boehrle avers three pounds of batting makes a quilt too heavy.

If the quilt's going to be used as a bedspread she considers 1 lb. 5 oz. is enough. Then her quiltspread weighs no more than a chenille bedspread.

Only once has Mrs. Boehrle glanced at the clock. So busy a time has she spent that, on one occasion, she quilted a double wedding ring pattern in 52 hours. With a snowflake design she put in three weeks.

To quilt means to sew around each pieced scrap by hand, thus holding the top and bottom together and preventing the cotton from knotting. In some designs that require large pieces of solid fabric, Mrs. Boehrle quilts her own design into the solid piece. Up until now her interest was avid, but she had been entirely calm. When she showed off her 'star' pattern, a bright gleam lighted her eyes.

The star is a carnival of colorful scraps. The entire top is handmade. Once in an ambitious mood, Mrs. Boehrle counted the pieces, but laughingly admitted she had forgotten the number.

In Daytime

Mrs. Boehrle gives no clearcut reason for an idiosyncrasy: she never quilts at night. Also, she employs no help. Quilting she considers her own special project.

Bundles of scraps the quilter will weave into a finished piece of goods. The large swatches go into the top. Then she works down to the parts requiring smaller scraps. Usually, the double wedding ring is the last quilt she makes.

Some people, Mrs. Boehrle finds, slip strips of solid material between the quilt squares. The added padding is sure to point up the beauty of each square.

For the Dresden plate, a scallop pattern, painstaking care is necessary because the pieced circles are appliqued to the quilt top.

FASTEST KNOWN PAIN RELIEF FOR ARTHRITIC, RHEUMATIC VICTIMS — NOW AVAILABLE

Seven "Film-Coated" Ingredients Offer Positive Relief

The crippling, torturing, twisting pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism may soon be forgotten, thanks to an exciting new laboratory development. Ar-Pan-Ex was perfected by a noted scientist of a world-famed university, working with all known facts about these crippling ailments. The result is a safe, easy to take tablet that promotes the fastest relief known from that which appears to be the best.

Ar-Pan-Ex is compounded of seven active ingredients including a special new medicine to help provide longer lasting relief. Ar-Pan-Ex exclusively perfected to curb chronic, deep-seated pains.

Why AR-PAN-EX Helps

Ar-Pan-Ex does not dissolve uselessly in the stomach—avoids stomach distress. Ar-Pan-Ex is scientifically "Film-Coated" so that ALL the powerful, pain-relieving medicine is released only in the small intestine where it can quickly be carried by the blood stream to the joints and muscles.

Swelling, stiffness and soreness may seem to be miraculously eased when Ar-Pan-Ex helps the system throw off excess Uric Acid that can also aggravate pains.

Nothing Like AR-PAN-EX

Nothing ever offered before can bring results faster, more effectively or with longer lasting benefits than Ar-Pan-Ex. It may mean a new life of usefulness and pleasure to millions. Ask for genuine Ar-Pan-Ex today at any drug store for the kind of relief no other product can claim to equal. If your druggist is out of it, he will be glad to order it for you.

Vincent Posture Chairman

Dr. Everett B. Vincent of Hondo has been advised of his appointment as city county chairman of a Correct Posture Week committee for this area.

The appointment was announced by Dr. Joe C. Myers of San Antonio, regional chairman for Posture Week. Correct Posture Week in Texas is sponsored annually by the chiropractic public health committee of Texas.

The week will be observed May 1-7. During the period the chiropractors of this area will stress the importance of good posture and its relationship to good health in the hope of correcting postural faults.

"If incorrect posture habits are not corrected early in life, it may be difficult to make corrections later and could be the cause that results in illness," Dr. Vincent said.

"Proper posture, especially when developed in young people, is one of the greatest contributing factors to good health, physical endurance, working efficiency and good appearance," he added.

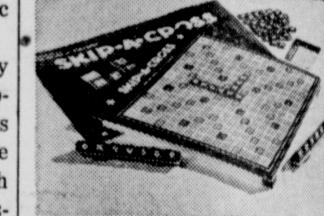

Detailed plans for the observance of the week in this area will be announced later by Dr. Vincent.

Making it too hot for fire bugs

In 1928 about one dollar of every five in fire loss was due to fire bugs. Since then, fire insurance investigators have revolutionized the detection of arson. Working with local authorities, they have eliminated arson rings. Today, few—if any—professional arsonists can be found for hire. Arson now is mostly the work of juveniles and mental defectives.

Hondo goes to Edgewood for the giant killer game Tuesday afternoon. Through Tuesday's games the Red Raiders had won 21 of 22 games.

Neuman's Hit Wins

A two-run triple by Billy Neuman in the fifth inning spelled victory for Hondo over the visiting East Central Hornets in the Owls first home night game of the season Tuesday, April 19. The score was 8-6.

It was also the Hondoans second 27-A triumph of the campaign.

Richard Schulte enjoyed one of his better days, but although he struck out the side in the first three innings East Central scored five times. The score was tied 5-5 at the end of three before East Central made a run in its half of the fourth and Hondo Schulte struck out 11 over the seven frames to notch his seventh victory against two defeats for the season. The Owls now have won 13 of 17 contests.

Monte Williams belted a triple and single in four trips and Neuman added a single to his three-base hit, also in four times up. Second Sacker Thomas got three for five for East Central, including a pair of doubles.

The fielding gem was a catch of a pop fly by Alvin Hartman in short right that doubled base runner Thomas off first. Meanwhile Devine lost 11-5 to Edgewood April 15.

Owls Start 27-A With 10-6 Win

Hondo started its 27-A season with a 10-6 triumph over the Northeast Brahmas on the Northeast diamond in San Antonio April 14.

However, spotty pitching threw a scare into the Owls. Although Carver's Kids slammed Northeast pitching for five hits and five runs in the opening inning, Northeast came back for five of its own in the fifth, leaving Hondo with a 6-5 margin.

However, the Owls kept peppering away for two runs in the sixth and two more in the final seventh frame. The Owls numbered 12 hits to half as many for five for East Central, including a pair of doubles.

John Morin, who relieved Richard Schulte in the fifth, got credit for the victory. Alvin Hartman tripled and singled in four trips and Schulte whacked a double and single in three times. Line score:

Deer Count Lines Laid In County

A group of four state Game and Fish Commission men and Warden August Timmerman are laying census lines in preparation for a buck and doe count in October.

R. R. (Bob) Ramsey state game biologist, leads the group. He is aided by Frank Rogers, Emmett Smith, Calvin Hoosier and Jim Vandenburg. Warden Timmerman's value has been high because he is intimately acquainted with the lay of the land.

The census lines, says Everett B. Vincent, regional president of the N. C. Wildlife Assn., cover 12 lines running east and each of which is two miles long. The lines are put where deer are known to range.

Before the October census lines will be added to Dr. Vincent, to ascertain ratio of bucks to does.

The doe season will be where owners will allow land where the survey acknowledges there is a number of does. Although doe season will not be a sorry, it will be recommended by the game commission, which taken over this function of the legislature.

The same men who are lines now will go to Sutton for the another census final results.

Ramsey will appear before the Lions Clubbers Wednesday, April 20.

Dr. Vincent said the game observers would make mile walks along their lines before dark, walking with the sun to their back so as to shine in the faces of deer who look upon the game observer.

It is expected there will be some dieoffs between now and the game count in October because of fawns dieing after worms and other predators.

There will be a farm in the area where the deer will be released for an increase in the deer population.

No counts will be taken in the season but two or more will be made after the season, Dr. Vincent said.

These census counts will be divided into bucks, does, fawns and unidentified deer.

The latter will be broken down in the same ratio.
